

Call for Nominations: President's Medal for Academic Excellence and Student Leadership

Terms of Reference

Introduction

MacEwan University Convocation recognizes and celebrates the academic achievements of graduates. Among the medals and awards presented at Convocation is the President's Medal for Academic Excellence and Student Leadership, which recognizes both academic achievement and contribution to enhancing the student experience at MacEwan University.

Number of Awards

Should there be candidates whose contributions merit special recognition, up to two President's Medals may be presented at each Fall and Spring convocation. One medal may be awarded for each of the two levels: 1) undergraduate degree and 2) certificate and diploma credentials. For the purposes of this award, Applied Degrees shall be included in the undergraduate degree level. Medals will be presented during the recipient(s) convocation ceremony.

Important Note: The selected degree recipient is expected to deliver the Student Address to their graduating class at each convocation ceremony. This speech should celebrate their fellow students' academic journey and the achievements that led to this day. Details are to be provided to recipient(s) upon selection.

Awards Criteria

A successful candidate exemplifies the best qualities of a MacEwan University student by contributing to the betterment of the university in the broader community, while maintaining a high grade point average. Award recipients must demonstrate student leadership which may be expressed through active participation in university committees, groups, organizations, extracurricular activities or active participation in community engagement activities. In addition, the recipient may also have demonstrated involvement in research, scholarly activity, and creative achievements.

Recipients must demonstrate a minimum graduation grade point average of 3.30.

Nomination & Selection

The selection committee is chaired by the university's Provost and Vice-President, Academic, and includes the AVP of Planning, Analysis, and Registrar, AVP Students, two Faculty Members, a representative from the Students' Association of MacEwan University, and a representative from Alumni.

- The selection committee will solicit and accept nominations.
- Three letters of reference from among faculty members, committee chairs, or related organizations should attest to the contribution.
- The committee will consider all information available to them when making the awards selection and will make such inquiries as necessary to select the best candidate.

This committee shall establish procedures and regulations with respect to the review and selection process and the award decision of this body shall be final.

Recipients will be recognized in the published program for the respective Convocation, so selection of recipients must be completed in a timely fashion for publication. To be considered for this award, candidates who are graduating must therefore apply to graduate by University established deadlines, and their course work must be graded by the end of the term immediately preceding the term in which convocation occurs.
