MacEwan University to celebrate Spring Convocation 2024

Edmonton – MacEwan University will award credentials to almost 2,400 individuals who will graduate from its degree, certificate and diploma programs. The achievements of graduates will be celebrated during six ceremonies at Edmonton’s Winspear Centre from June 18 to 20, 2024.

“The accomplishments we will celebrate together are significant to each and every person who will participate in or watch the ceremonies,” says Dr. Anthony Fields, chancellor. “The dedication and commitment required to reach this milestone cannot be understated.”

MacEwan is a place of exceptional undergraduate learning and students are given opportunities to grow in an environment that prepares them to join the workforce or continue their studies. Almost 90,000 MacEwan alumni have gone on to contribute to the economic and social fabric of Alberta or wherever they took their skills.

“This is truly a wonderful time of year when our graduates get together with family and friends to mark their accomplishments,” says Dr. Annette Trimbee, president and vice-chancellor. “I am always honoured to share the day with everyone. We’re proud that we have played a role in their life’s journey and we are excited to see the contributions they will make to their chosen fields and their communities.”

Spring Convocation 2024 will also include ceremonies to award a Doctor of the University, honoris causa, to Dr. Shane O’Dea, Dr. Ruth Collins-Nakai, Dr. Austin Albert Mardon, Anne McLellan and Annemarie Leenhouts-Petrov. Each of the Honorary Doctorate recipients will address the graduates, as will Distinguished Alumni Award recipient Mallory Yawnghwe.

All ceremonies will include performances by the MacEwan University Big Band, an Indigenous performance and an Indigenous honour song.
