Alberta artists to perform as part of TD Artist in Residence program at MacEwan University

Edmonton – MacEwan University is pleased to announce that the second year of the TD Music Artist in Residence at MacEwan University Program is now in session, building towards a showcase concert where the artists will present their original compositions and performances. The two-week artist development program is an initiative designed to nurture and support emerging musical talent from across Alberta. This innovative residency program is made possible by the generous sponsorship of TD Bank Group.

"We are thrilled to partner with TD Bank for another year of the TD Music Artist in Residence at MacEwan University program," said Ray Baril, chair of the Music Department. "This initiative will provide talented Alberta musicians with the guidance, resources and tools they need to flourish in the music industry. We look forward to witnessing the artistic growth and creative synergy that will unfold during this exciting two-week residency."

The TD Music Artist in Residence at MacEwan University program aims to provide up-and-coming musicians with an exceptional opportunity to elevate their craft and take their careers to new heights. During the on-campus residency, the 16 selected artists are immersed in a creative and collaborative environment, gaining access to MacEwan's state-of-the-art facilities, mentorship from accomplished industry professionals and faculty and the chance to network with fellow musicians and potential collaborators.

The showcase concert will be open to all music enthusiasts and admission will be free of charge. Attendees will be treated to an afternoon of diverse musical genres, providing a glimpse into the rich tapestry of Alberta's emerging musical talents.
