MacEwan’s Acupuncture program celebrates a decade of paving the way.

Edmonton – Grant MacEwan University’s Acupuncture program will be celebrating a 10 year milestone of offering comprehensive instruction in acupuncture, biomedical sciences, Traditional Chinese Medicine, and herbology.

When: Friday, October 23
   3 – 5 p.m.
Where: Robbins Health Learning Centre – Room, 9 - 115

The afternoon of events will highlight the successes and leadership of the program over the last decade. Presentations will showcase student China study tours, the value and importance of research in the Acupuncture program; specifically highlighting current research around Acupuncture and its effects on PMS in women, and the preliminary results of this study.

MacEwan’s Acupuncture program was the first program in Alberta used as the benchmark for government licensing in the field and thus is recognized and fully approved by the Acupuncture Committee under Alberta Health and Wellness.

Join us as we reflect on the past success and future opportunities of MacEwan’s Acupuncture program.
