The End of Expertise? Reviewing in the age of the Consumer Reviewer

Edmonton – The Department of English at MacEwan University is pleased that Dr. Linda Hutcheon will be at the City Centre Campus to talk about the future of expert, professional reviewers. Dr. Hutcheon will discuss how the digital realm has been altered by the fact that anyone can become a reviewer online.

Dr. Hutcheon is a noted Canadian academic working in the fields of literary theory and criticism, opera and Canadian Studies. Currently, she is a professor in the Department of English at the University of Toronto where she has taught since 1988.

In 2000 Dr. Hutcheon was elected the 117th President of the Modern Language Association, the third Canadian to hold this position, and the first Canadian woman. She is known for her influential theories on postmodernism.
