February 26, 2013

Ethics and Professionalism in the Age of Social Networks MacEwan University Presents Dr. Alec Couros

Edmonton--On Tuesday, March 5, 2013 MacEwan University’s Faculty of Health and Community Studies will be hosting Dr. Alec Couros, Professor of Educational Technology and Media from the Faculty of Education, University of Regina as part of their Visiting Scholar Lecture Series.

Social networking such as Facebook and Twitter has transformed the way in which we communicate, form relationships and share information. While these new technologies have fostered amazing opportunities for learning, creativity and participatory citizenship, there are many downsides to this inter-connected reality.

Dr. Alec Couros will explore questions on how we manage information in this fast-paced world, how our relationship with privacy has changed, and how important our online identity is to be ‘Googleable’ as a professional.

Are you a responsible digital citizen? Gain insight on the ever-changing world of social networks on Tuesday, March 5th at 3:30 p.m. at MacEwan University’s City Centre Campus, in the Robbins Health Learning Centre (10910-104 Avenue), Kule Lecture Theatre (9-323).

Founded in 1971, MacEwan University is a comprehensive university offering more than 65 programs including undergraduate degrees, applied degrees, diplomas, certificates, continuing education and corporate training. Its philosophy of inspiring minds, academic excellence, and providing career opportunities continues to be its guide as it serves the educational needs of students across Alberta, Canada and the world.

We are a hub of energetic, creative, scholarly and cultural activity at the heart of the city.

For further information, please contact:
David Beharry, Media Relations Advisor
(780) 497-5586
Cell: (780) 231-5954
email: beharryd@macewan.ca