Outstanding students receive the President’s Medal

Edmonton—MacEwan University is proud to announce that two outstanding students have received the President’s Medal for Academic Excellence and Student Leadership.

Brittany-Ann Pitruniak is not only an accomplished student, but an important and unforgettable force in many areas of MacEwan University. As president of the Students’ Association, Student Member of the Board of Governors, a MacEwan University Ambassador and a member of the United Nations Club, Brittany-Ann’s leadership, enthusiasm and drive have created positive social change at the university and in the community.

Casey Pollon’s hard work and community spirit can be felt throughout MacEwan University and as far as Ecuador. As a dedicated Design Studies student, Casey has maintained an exceptional grade point average and has served her classmates through her participation in the Design Studies Organization where she served as the president. Throughout her time at MacEwan University she has volunteered for numerous Open Houses, special events, and welcoming prospective new students.

The President’s Medal for Academic Excellence and Student Leadership recognizes an exemplary combination of academic achievement and contribution to the betterment of MacEwan University. Medal recipients are graduates who demonstrate the best qualities of a MacEwan University student by maintaining a high grade point average while providing leadership through active participation in university-wide committees, groups, organizations, or extra-curricular activities. One medal may be awarded to a graduating student in a certificate or diploma program and one medal to a graduating student in a degree program.

Founded in 1971, MacEwan University inspires its students with a powerful combination of academic excellence and personal learning experiences. Offering more than 65 programs including undergraduate degrees, applied degrees, diplomas, certificates, continuing education and corporate training, the university provides a transformative education in a creative, collaborative and supportive learning environment where creativity and innovation thrive. Located in Edmonton, Alberta Canada, MacEwan University offers a unique student experience that opens up diverse pathways for achievement and growth.
