Unique Venues magazine names MacEwan University one of the best

Edmonton—MacEwan University has been selected as the First Runner up for Unique Venues “Best in Show” award in the category of Best College or University to hold a meeting or host an event. Unique Venues is an organization committed to bringing together one-of-a-kind event venues with event planners. The publication represents thousands of non-traditional properties in Canada, the United States, Ireland and the United Kingdom.

Unique Venues says that MacEwan University is ideal for a variety of functions, including corporate social events, meetings/conferences/training, wedding ceremonies and receptions, and youth conference events. “What really makes us stand out is the combination of venues and technological features we have available,” says Kris Bruckmann, director of operations, Retail and Campus Services. “Our entire campus features wireless Internet access and classrooms have built-in state-of-the-art audiovisual equipment. We also provide on-site technical support.”

“Our location downtown is extremely convenient and the full service catering provides a wide-variety of options,” said Erin Walton, manager, Conferences and Event Services. “When groups know that they can develop their own menu, not just order from a pre-existing one, it really makes their choice in choosing a venue a little easier. To assist in the planning process there is always a dedicated event professional to look after all of the details.”
